

Jan-Stix – Bringing a New Dimension to Dining

Jan-Stix are revolutionary eating utensils unlike anything you have ever seen before.

Reminiscent of chopsticks (which go back over 4,000 years), Jan-Stix allow you to pluck each selected food morsel, or to scoop up vegetables, rice, and other grains, as you would with a fork.

Unlike conventional chopsticks, however, Jan-Stix feature a large, egg-shaped handle that fits comfortably into any-sized hand. The handle features a spring-loaded, pinch-proof hinge. Just a gentle squeeze is all that's required to bring the stalks together to embrace the desired morsel. The inviting, "orange-peel" texture resists slippage and provides a pleasing tactile sensation.

Jan-Stix can be held in over a dozen different ways—whatever is comfortable for the diner!

Raised nubs on the inner tip surfaces hug even the most slippery foods, while the outer tip surfaces feature smooth edges against the lips and tongue.

Jan-Stix are available in four designer colors and are elegant in any décor. Jan-Stix are free-standing—always ready to use. They require no separate chopsticks rest and take up less table space than a wine goblet.

Jan-Stix are manufactured entirely in the USA. They are made from dishwasher-safe, FDA-approved rigid thermoplastic and stainless steel, and weigh less than three ounces.

The Jan-Stix design makes them appropriate for many non-Asian foods, such as stews, salads, shellfish, pasta and other Mediterranean meals, vegetables, rice and other grains, fondue, fruit, berries, grapes and many “finger foods” for those times when you don’t want to use your fingers!

Jan-Stix create a unique and enjoyable dining experience. Introduce your family to the foods of the world with Jan-Six.

Jan-Stix make a wonderful gift for those who may struggle using conventional eating utensils.

Jan-Stix Design Feature Review

The many unique features of Jan-Stix contribute to their versatility. Jan-Stix are the first ergonomically designed chopsticks. The large handle engages the major muscle groups of the hand and forearm, rather than the minor muscle groups of the fingers. This results in less fatigue, for more comfortable eating over longer periods of time.

But the single word that best describes Jan-Stix is fun! Jan-Stix makes eating more enjoyable for everyone from ages 8 to 108.

Enjoy the Jan-Stix experience for yourself and see what we mean by, "Let's eat better!"

Using Jan-Stix is so intuitive... It's like eating with your fingers—but your fingers never touch the food!

How Do You Hold Jan-Stix?

Whatever way is comfortable for you! Here are just a few possibilities; try these or develop your own technique:

		The Maestro: With large hands you can use just your fingertips, as an orchestra conductor might hold the baton. Jan-Stix weigh less than 3 ounces, and a gentle squeeze against the stainless-steel spring is all that is required to grasp the next delicious morsel.
		The Shortstop: Many diners hold Jan-Stix in their fingers, the way a baseball player would hold a baseball. The oval handles accommodate hands of every size.
		The Tennis Player: Most diners use some combination of fingers and palm to grip their Jan-Stix. This is how a tennis player might hold her racquet. The fingers are resting completely on the handle and are diagonal to the Jan-Stix base.
		The Slugger: Holding the Jan-Stix deeper into the palm of the hand may be more comfortable for some diners. This is how a baseball player might grip his bat. Note that the fingers are now essentially parallel to the base of the Jan-Stix.
		The Venus Flytrap: Now here is something completely different that gives you an idea of the versatility of Jan-Stix. Grasping from the bottom (to mimic the aforementioned carnivorous plant) you can still pluck or scoop your next mouthful.
		The Gemologist: My mother holds her eponymous utensil like giant tweezers to facilitate grasping each morsel. The "orange peel" texture continues up the stalks to minimize slippage, while the outer tip surfaces are smooth against lips and tongue.
